Table of Contents

1. Introduction 1

1.1. What is Laurel? 1

1.2. What is this manual? 1

1.3. How to obtain Laurel 2

1.4. How to run Laurel 2

1.5. Acknowledgments 3

2. Basic notions and facilities 5

2.1 The user interface 6

2.1.1 Command invocation 6

2.1.2 Editing conventions 6

2.1.3 Brackets 7

2.2 The display 8

2.2.1 Scrolling and thumbing 8

2.2.2 New mail Retrieving your new mail 9

2.3 The table-of-contents region 9

2.3.1 Selecting messages 9

2.3.2 Mark characters 10

2.4 Status information in the upper menu 10

2.4.1 Laurel version 10

2.4.2 Date and time 10

2.4.3 In-box status 11

2.4.4 Free disk pages 11

2.5 Message display region 12

2.6 Message composition region 12

2.7 The feedback region 12

3. Screen commands 13

3.1 Upper menu commands 13

3.1.1 User Logging in 13

3.1.2 New mail Retrieving your new mail 14

3.1.3 Mail file Establishing your current mail file 14

3.1.4 Quit Leaving Laurel 15

3.2 Received message manipulation 16

3.2.1 Display Viewing a message 16

3.2.2 Delete Indicating messages to be destroyed 16

3.2.3 Undelete Indicating messages to be retained 16

3.2.4 Move to Filing messages 17

3.3 Hardcopy Printing messages 17

3.3.1 Printer 18

3.3.2 Form 18

3.3.3 Copies 19

3.3.4 Two sided 19

3.3.5 Private 20

3.4 Message initialization commands 20
3.4.1 New form Initializing a new message 21
3.4.2 Answer Replying to a message 21
3.4.3 Forward Resending received messages 21
3.5 File commands 22
3.5.1 Get Reading a file 22
3.5.2 Put Writing a file 23
3.5.3 Copy Copying or transferring a file 24
3.6 Run Running a program; Laurel extensions 24
3.7 Deliver Sending a message 25
3.7.1 Editing the message header 26
3.7.2 Naming recipients 26
3.7.3 Public distribution lists 27
3.7.4 Private distribution lists 28
3.7.5 Delivery 28
3.7.6 Corresponding with Arpanet recipients 29

4. The Laurel editor 31
4.1 Getting started 32
4.2 Selecting text 32
4.2.1 Target and source selections 32
4.2.2 The selection hierarchy 33
4.2.3 Character selection 33
4.2.4 Word selection 33
4.2.5 Line selection 33
4.2.6 Paragraph selection 34
4.2.7 Document selection 34
4.2.8 Selection extension 34
4.2.9 Selection expansion 35
4.2.10 Selection reduction 36
4.2.11 Type-in point selection (modeless editor only) 36
4.2.12 Replace selection (modeless editor only) 36
4.3 Text input 37
4.3.1 Special characters 37
4.3.2 Shifted selection 38
4.3.3 Secondary selection (modal editor only) 38
4.3.4 Delete selection (modeless editor only) 39
4.3.5 Move selection (modeless editor only) 39
4.4 Keyboard commands 40
4.4.1 A (COM-A) Append text 41
4.4.2 B (COM-B) Placeholder brackets 41
4.4.3 D (DEL, COM-D) Delete text 42
4.4.4 E (COM-E) Select everything 42
4.4.5 F (COM-F) Find 42
4.4.6 G (COM-G) Get file 44
4.4.7 I (COM-I) Insert text 44
4.4.8 P (COM-P) Put file 45
4.4.9 R (COM-R) Replace text 45
4.4.10 S (COM-S) Substitute 45
4.4.11 T (COM-T) Insert Time 46
4.4.12 U (CANCEL, COM-U) Undo or cancel last text modification 47
4.4.13 ESC (DO) Repeat last text modification 48

4.4.14 (NEXT) Select next placeholder 48
4.4.15 (PASTE) Insert previous deletion 48
4.4.16 ', ", <, (, [, {, - (COM-', COM-", etc.) Bracket commands 49
4.4.17 0, 1, ... 9 (COM-0, COM-1, ... COM-9) Shortcut screen rearrangement 49

5. The Laurel profile 51

6. Message system mores 61

7. Look before you leap . . . 71

8. If things go wrong . . . 73

9. Things a casual user doesn't really need to know 75

Appendices

A. Command line options 77

B. Programs available for the Run command 79
B.1. Chat 80
B.2. Maintain 82
B.3. InsertMail 85
B.4. Files 86
B.5 SearchMail 88
B.6 MailFileScavenger 89

C. Hardcopy forms 91

D. Laurel and MSG 101

E. Laurel 6 vs. Laurel 5.1 and LaurelX 103

Figures

1. Sample Laurel Screen 0

2. Laurel 6 modeless editor command summary 105